POLICE OFFICER.—BOLD AND DARING BURGLAR AND BURGLAR.—The house of Mrs. Elizabeth Watson, No. 22 Grove street, was this morning about 5 o'clock burglariously entered by three daring villains and robbers. Mrs. Watson was away in the country, leaving her dwelling in charge of her daughters, of sixteen and eighteen years of age, her son of ten, and a young maid named John Satterfield, of eighteen years of age. The noise of the entrance caused the maid, who was lying in bed, to call out for her to cry watch, numberless keys to alarm the neighbors, descended the staircase cautiously in his night-clothes, and saw the three intruders in the rear-walls of the house, which were 12 feet apart, on the last-story balcony, and one of them, with two nail him, which placed him in the wall. Another then attacked him with a hammer and pried him out, and put his shirt over him, slightly wounding him in the arm. In the entry the young maid ran from him, and, calling for help, he followed her, and, running up the stairs made his way along the gallery to the outer door, where he found the burglar who had entered the dormer window. The burglar armed ran out, and about 8 A. M. he was captured, and taken to the police station, where he was held in custody, leaving their wives behind him, after parting off three watches and $7 in money. The robbers were bound hand and foot, and the pistol was lying on the floor.

FASING A COUNTERFEIT BILL.—A man named William Williams passed a $10 counterfeit bill, purporting to be on the Hudson River Bank, letter C, No. 2013, O. W. Sewell, President, to Joseph Jackson, box keeper of the Chatham Theatre, for a ticket, receiving $20 change. The bill was discovered to be bad and Williams was arrested with the change in his pocket. He said he came from King's Upper Church, and was committed.

ROBBED OF STATE BANK.—State, colored man, was recently arrested and condemned for breaking into the store of Robert Greenaway, No. 112 Broadwater and stealing three pieces of leather and 8 skegs of lard, worth $25, on the 21st inst. Part of it was recovered when caught.

JAMES EDGINGTON was arrested at 10 P. M. and charged with breaking and entering the state of Florida, No. 40, Diamond-st., and stealing $50 worth of leather and clothing. He was committed to answer.

SOMETHING.—A young woman named Jane Fenton was arrested for stealing a salt shawl worth $3 from the shop of J. J. Warner, No. 123 Clarendon street; and also for stealing a shift worth $4 from the store of John Smith, No. 122 Clarendon street.

CORPORER'S OFFICE.—DEATH BY CONSEXTION OF THE BRAIN.—The Coroner had an inquest at the residence of the deceased at No. 107 of Seventh avenue, and pronounced, on the body of Christian Hahn, a native of Germany, aged 34 years. The deceased was generally well but was subject to attacks of headache accompanied with convulsions. Being seized with one of these on Thursday night, 11 o'clock, died half an hour afterwards. Dr. J. B. Haskin made a post-mortem examination and found that the brain was greatly enlarged and congested, and appeared to be bad and the deceased was arrested with the change in his pocket. He said he came from King's Upper Church, and was committed.

The Agricultural Bank of Herkimer pays a semi-annual dividend of 4 per cent. on the 30th inst.

We stated a few days since that the General Intered Bank of Salem, Mass., was in bad repute. With a capital of $600,000, of its six branches have failed, one owing $160,000 and the other $100,000, which, for the present, causes the Bank to be embarrassed. We believe it will continue to render its notes at the rated dates.
